

Predict the Next Letter

The game "Predict the Next Letter" resembles hangman but with a twist: you can only add the next letter in sequence. To play, select a letter from the alphabet and challenge your student to predict what comes next. Each guessed letter must be confirmed before proceeding to the next one. If the student guesses incorrectly, write the correct letter underneath the line where it belongs. Continue this process until the student successfully identifies the entire word. Utilize consonant blends and vowels to help guide them as they progress.

Let's use the word "predict" as an example. You can begin by adding the first letter of the word if you wish. Write down each guessed letter underneath each other for all incorrect selections.
